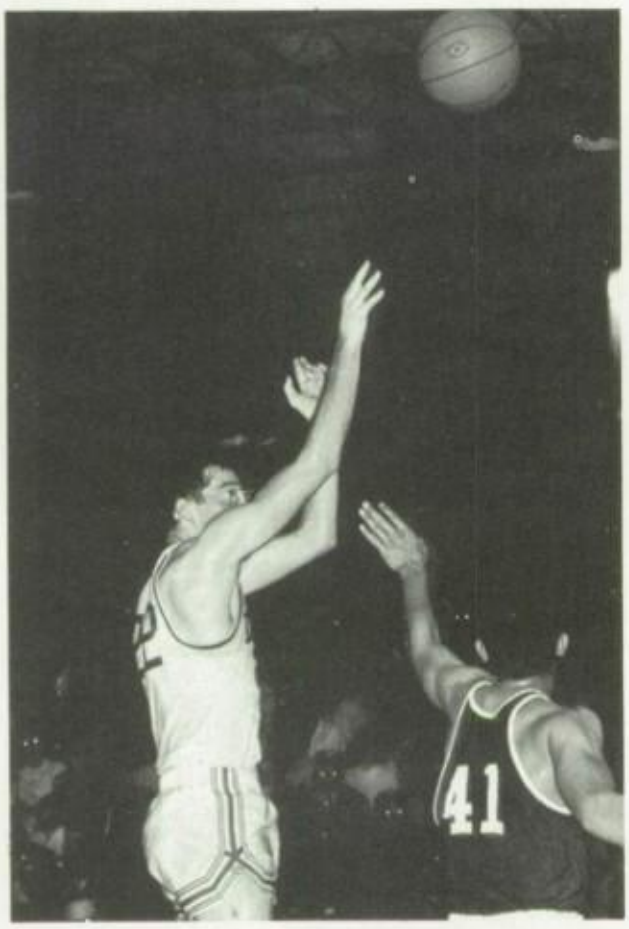
SPIRIT McGUINNESS STYLE



"WE LOVE YOU OUR McGUINNESS"

The opening words of our school song express the devotion and respect in the hearts of McGuinness students. Pride is evident in the pulsating spirit displayed in the classroom, in the gym, on the football field, as also in the effort to uphold the school's name and image.

"THROUGH THE YEARS YOUR IDEALS WILL BE A NOBLE GUIDE . . ."

McGuinness presents to each of its students ideals of love for all mankind, honesty, open-mindedness, and other moral values. The people who comprise the school are extraordinary in the way they accept responsibility and get things done.

"IF YOU WIN OR LOSE WE'LL SEE YOUR BANNERS FLY . . . IN VICTORY."

Victory, McGuinness style, is a relative commodity. Importance is placed, not on the final outcome, so much as upon the way the game is played. It is sportsmanship that counts in all facets of McGuinness life; ideals are never lost sight of no matter what the situation or how high the aim.

"HERE'S OUR SALUTE IN FOND TRIBUTE"

A salute in recognition of the memories, knowledge, maturity, and ideals gained through the years at McGuinness, and a hope that all of us will cherish these ideals and pass them on to others.

"ALL HAIL McGUINNESS HIGH"

By Kay Lee

IN THE PRESENCE of Coach Hughes and a group of student admirers, Dan Snider raises the Victory Flag.

SCROLL LETTERING calls for the wide open spaces. Monica Maschino and Laura Summers find the floor a convenient easel.

BOOKWORMS practice their art just before mid-term exams.

A GRAMMAR QUIZ is serious business for these Freshmen.

WITH LADDER and scotch tape Susie Bravo puts finishing touches on the homecoming float.

JACKIE TOFFOLI, Mary Gross, and Pat Shirey practice with a reading accelerator.

DANNY SNARE looks up the words for Mike Murphy while Bill Patrick gives moral support.

McGuinnessites Find Enjoyment in Each New Challenge

Blaring lights, roaring crowds, enthusiastically screaming pep club behind top-rated cheerleaders; twanging guitars, beating drums, pulsating atmosphere; swarming ideas, exuberant talent, struggling hands; flying questions, bewildered faces, swaying hands. Spirit is evident everywhere: in sports, activities, organizations, classes. It is a unique type of spirit, a love and loyalty for our school and a pride in its accomplishments; a spirit peculiar to us, different from that of others. This Spirit, your SPIRIT—McGUINNESS STYLE, is here too on every page of your yearbook.

Working, Helping, Sharing, Result in Happiness

NOW THAT THE PAIN IS GONE, Cleste Reinauer can enjoy the autographs on her cast. Could Arlene Smith be yearning for a similar autograph "album?"

Scenes, such as these, show a minute portion of the varied experiences shared by McGuinness students during this school year. Moments packed with relief for an obstacle overcome, with joy on a festive occasion, or with eager anticipation of something to be accomplished are priceless memories.

A constant blending of the serious and the exciting maintains a balance between academic fundamentals and extra activities, and results in a joyful giving and sharing.

GETTING READY to crown the football queen is an exciting time even for the small fry, as Vivian Gonzalez, Mary Lu Bravo, and Acela Hernandez can testify.

QUEEN BEVERLY (BRAUN) advances with escort John Hendrix and team member Steve Muse.

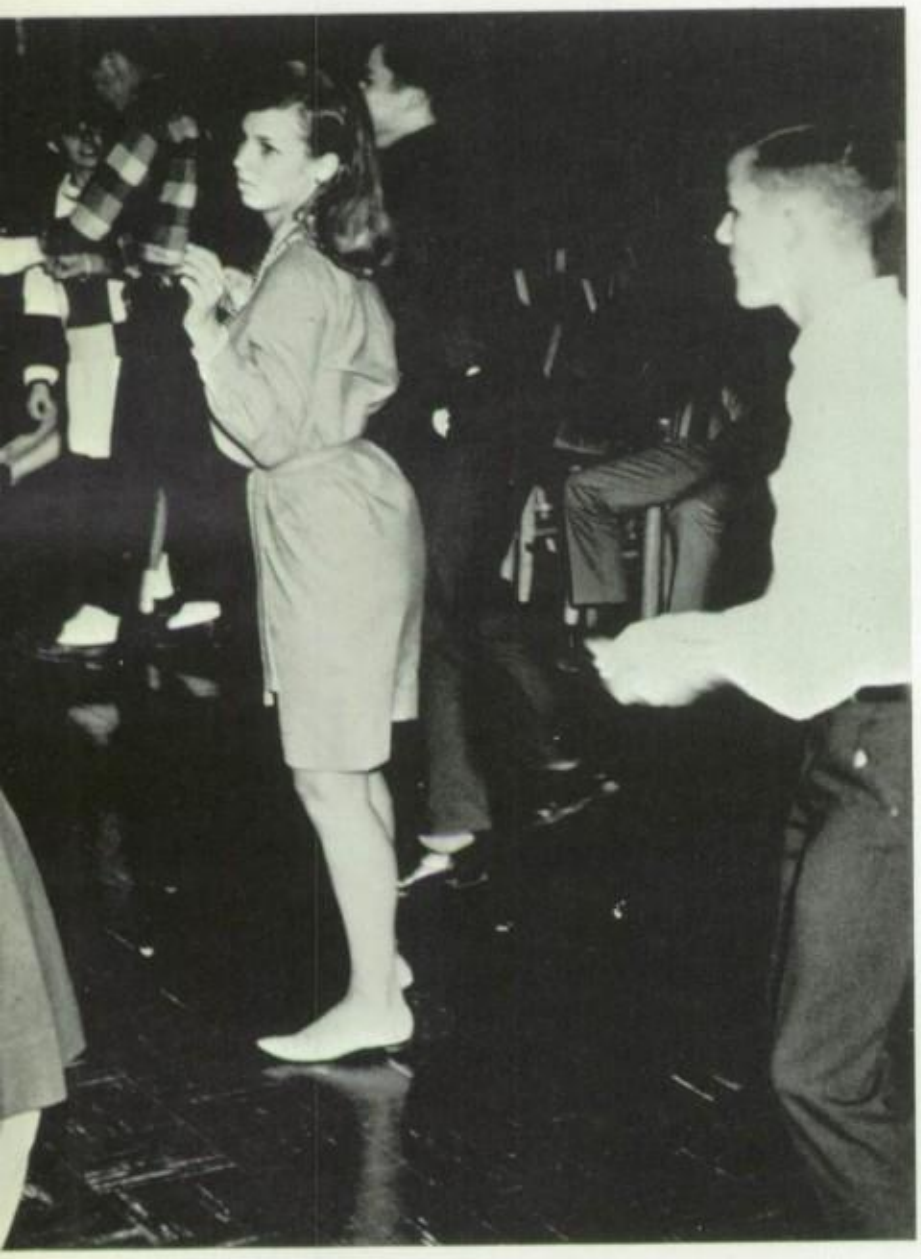
OBVIOUSLY THESE freshmen are eager to get rid of their quiz papers.

Energy Swarms All Over MHS, Indoors and Out

From Frosh to Seniors energy in action is the keyword. Whether banded together in the pursuit of competently presented knowledge, using spare time in the service of school departments, or exulting in the atmosphere of a homecoming game or a mixer, boundless energy is released.

For Freshmen exhilarating experiences incident to their unfamiliar surroundings in a four-year high school keep them keyed to unusual effort, and make them eager to become a part of MHS life.

ANNE ENDRES and Caroline Kennedy donate some time to filing in the main office.



JEANNE ANNE MAXWELL, Peter Neuse, and two St. Mary's students dance at the MHS—St. Mary's mixer.

FOOTBALL QUEEN, BEVERLY BRAUN, is crowned by Steve Muse, to the surprise of herself and escort, John Hendrix.

BR-R-R! Sally Gheen and Cathye Gaalaas agree that indoors is the place to be.

RELIGION AS PRESENTED by Father Donald Brooks is a fascinating subject. This Sophomore class appreciates the informal, student-orientated atmosphere.

Underclasses Prove Themselves in All Areas of Study

With wider opportunities for participation in student projects, the Sophomores distinguished themselves in contests and varsity sports; and they placed sixteen probationary members in the National Honor Society.

The Juniors maintained their usual record of competence in study, leadership, and service, and four junior names were added to the roster of the National Honor Society.

KEVIN COX sprints around a St. Mary's player. Steve Sprehe and Steve Muse close in.

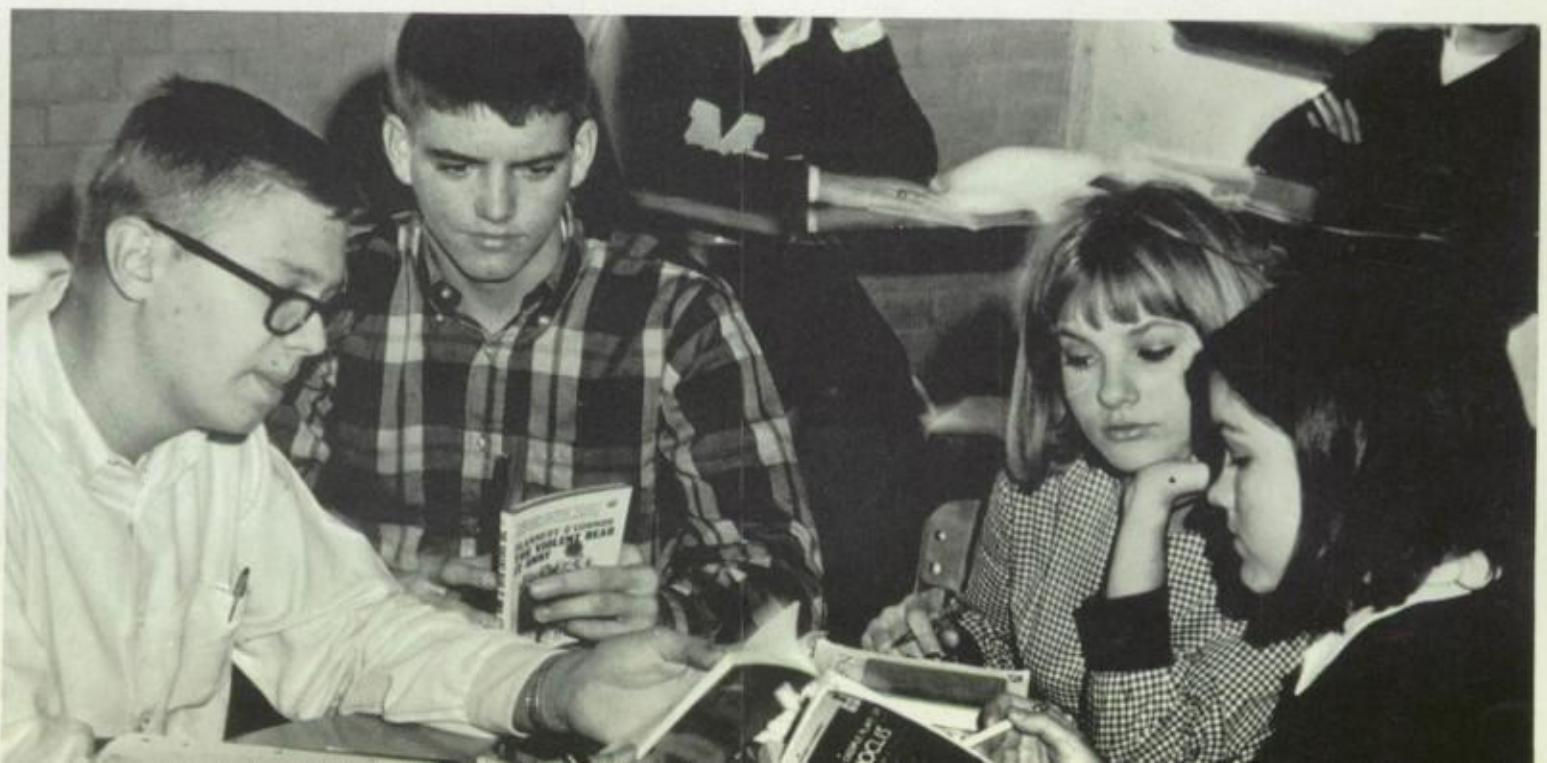
THIS CUTE LITTLE hamster seems very much at home in Bill Hellam's hand.

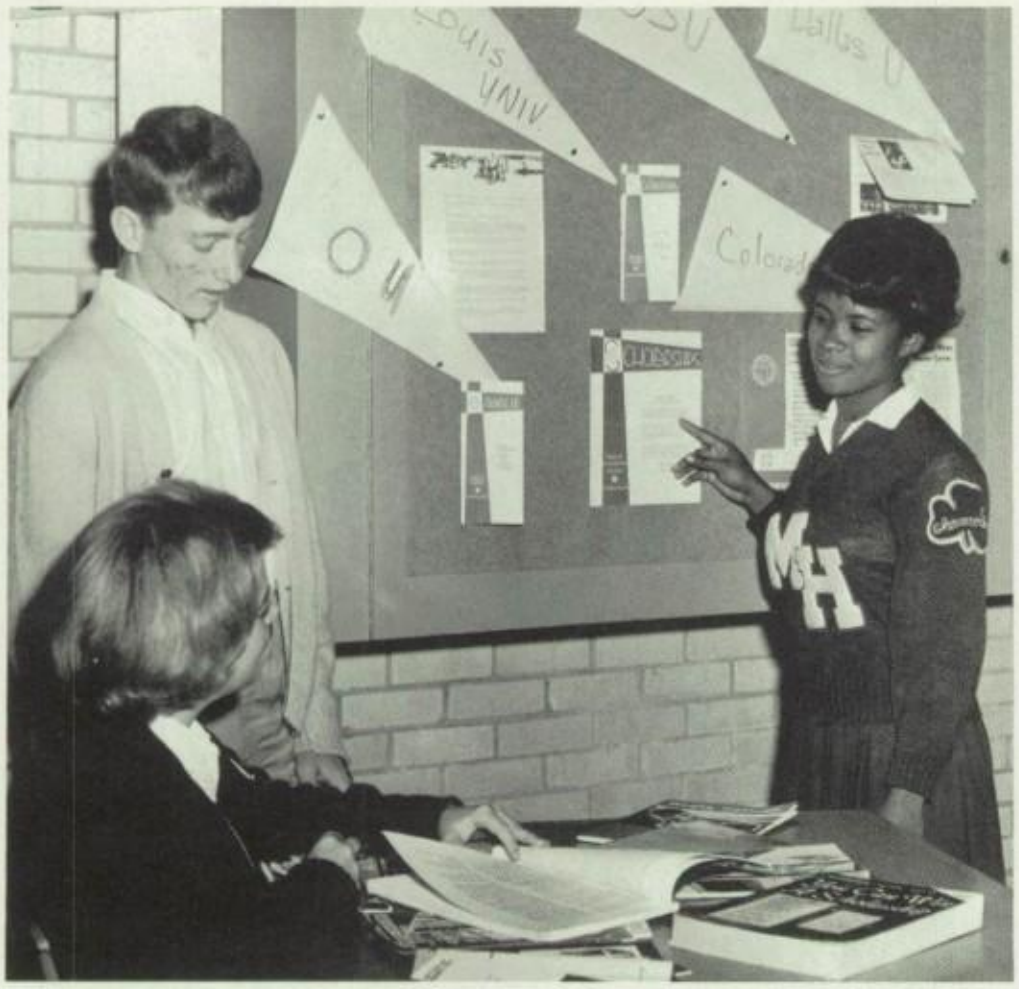
SCANNING THE HEAP OF BOOKS required for World Literature puts Mike Schiff, Mike Ward, Monica Maschino, and Margo Maidt in a meditative mood.



PAST RANKS of applauding Pep Clubbers' Cheerleader, Sherri Reinauer, leads the team.

BASKETBALL QUEEN, DIANE DITMARS, and court members, Irene Carey, Carrie Costello, Margaret Tener, Melanie Saeger, and Mary Kay Hendrix preside over the McGuinness-Edmond homecoming game.

Unity, Pride, Courage Blend in MHS Spirit



"WHAT COLLEGE?" is the question that Greg Blanche, Kitti Remmel, and Linda Thomas are trying to answer.

McGuinness is proud of its students, its graduates, and its Class of '66. This spirit of pride and unity, shared by faculty and student body, is aptly expressed by a '66 Senior in the Open Forum column of our school paper.

"I believe that McGuinness is the best school in the City. I have come to know and love our school and the people who are a part of it. I believe more than anything that what has made the Spirit of the Fighting Irish is not just the Pep Club or the team, but the spirit of friendliness and human kindness that exists in my school". What more could be said for the Spirit of McGuinness!

ENGLISH STUDENTS, Diane Dennehy and Bill Jordan, prepare to review a taped lesson.

COULD JANIE McGINLEY be aiming that knife at a cake? If not Barbara Sauer, Judy Hamilton, and Barbara Huston are really in danger; and is that pain or pleasure expressed in Susan Ulmer's face?

DIANE DITMARS was Basketball Queen.

MR. PETER FELLENZ—Religion. Sponsor Sophomore homeroom.

SISTER JOACHIM—Social Studies; Junior homeroom sponsor and class coordinator; Member of Academic Council.

MR. VIRGIL GRANTHAM—Social Studies; Freshman homeroom sponsor and class coordinator; Head basketball and baseball coach.

FATHER JOHN DOLIN takes a coffee break during Olympic Field Day activities.

Faculty Comprises Forty-one Members

SISTERS JOACHIM and Theodosius are ready for the four-mile trek to school in the school Volkswagen.

MRS. MIRIAM HARPER—Mathematics.

MR. FRED DURHAM—Mathematics.

SISTER BERTHA—Co-op Training; Developmental Reading; Counseling.

SISTERS ASSUMPTA and Jane Frances are judges for the Olympics Bowl.

Nine teachers joined the staff this year, along with two study supervisors. Faculty members, in conjunction with parent committees, planned the updating of education. As each department reviewed its curriculum several innovations were proposed. Team teaching, introduced on a limited, experimental scale last year, was used more widely this year, and was voted to be introduced into the English department next year.

SISTER VERONICA and Mr. Gavula exchange pleasantries in the teachers' lounge.

SISTER FRANCIS DE SALES—English; Speech; Sophomore Homeroom sponsor; Moderator of National Forensic League.

MRS. STUART STRASNER—English; Sophomore homeroom sponsor.

SISTER ROSALIE TERESA—Latin; English; Moderator of yearbook the CHI RHO.

MR. DON PICCOLO confers with a parent about a student's progress in Science.

MRS. MARY ANN JAMES—English; Social Studies; Junior homeroom sponsor.

MR. FRANK HUGHES—Boys' Physical Education; Head Football and Track Coach; Moderator of Lettermen's Club.

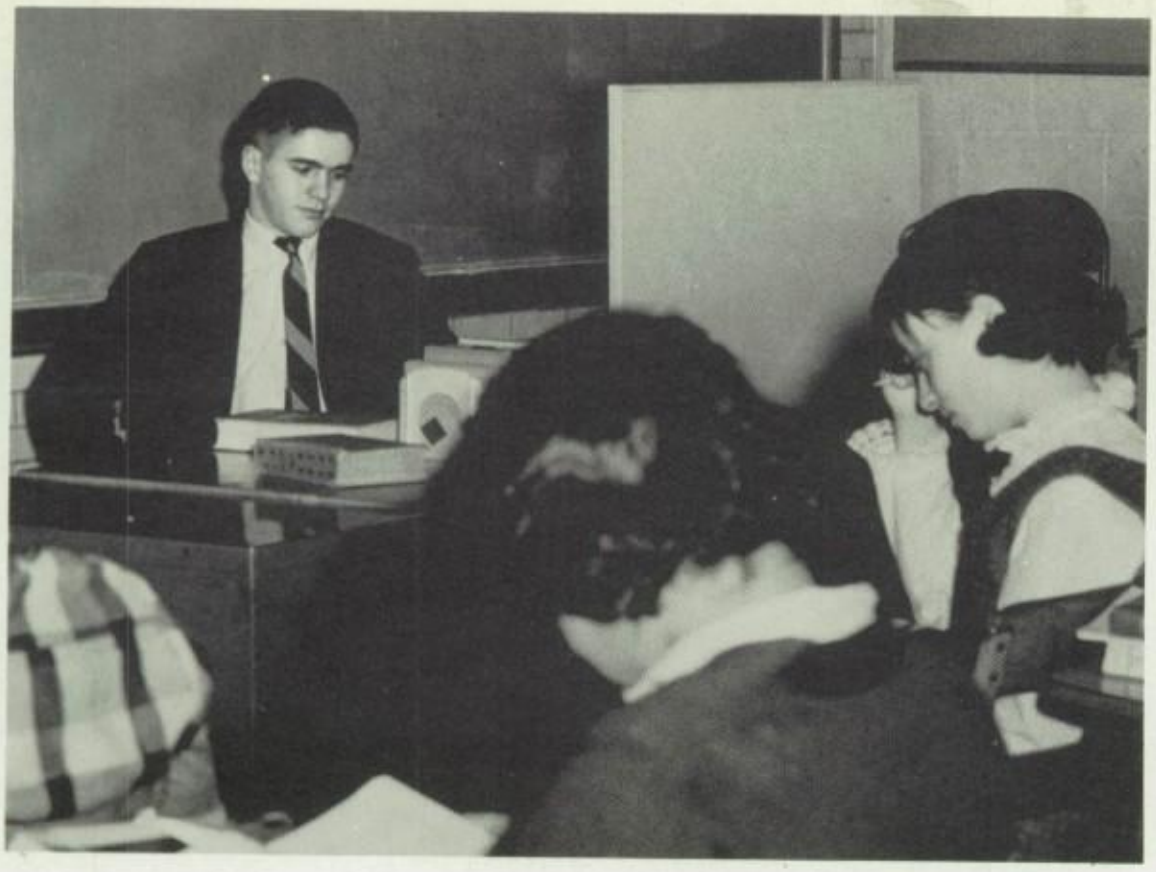
MR. MIKE BIBLE—Study supervisor; Supervisor of Detention hour.

MRS. JANN FAUGHT—Art; Moderator of Pep Club.

Planning and Discussion Keep Faculty in Touch

MR. FRED DURHAM and Sister Dolores compare their problems and triumphs.

MR. DON PICCOLO, caught by camera through the window screen, in the act of planting a redbud tree on the lawn.



MR. MIKE BIBLE supervises a group of freshmen in fifth hour study period.

SISTER JOACHIM and Sister Jane Frances ponder plans for the UE (updating Education) program.

SISTER VERONICA duplicates material for her Religion classes.

MR. JOHN GAVULA unloads a few of his more profound opinions on Father John Dolin.

ATTENDANCE OFFICER, Mrs. D. R. Glenn, spends a lot of time trying to find out why students are absent.

MRS. C. F. CRABTREE, Secretary, is continually involved with records, transcripts, interviews, and other problems of a registrar.

Efficient Communication, Accurate Recording Is

WHEN THEY RETURN to school after an absence, or when they come late, Mrs. Glenn has to go into action again. Now it's Shelly Zaikis, Ann Hagmann, and George Robertson.

THESE LADIES who help on a volunteer basis are:

MRS. G. G. MURPHY, bookkeeper, finds very few spare moments during a day at McGuinness.

JIM McCORKLE, Mike Mathews, and John Loughmiller stop by the office to see if they can help Mrs. Murphy with filing or something.

Task of Office Staff

MRS. H. R. ISTRE, Mrs. Dan Snider, Mrs. Bill Shock, and Mrs. Ray Tener.

MRS. CLARA DOLAN gives much of her time to assisting in the business office.

MRS. MARY HORAN prepares salads for about six hundred daily.

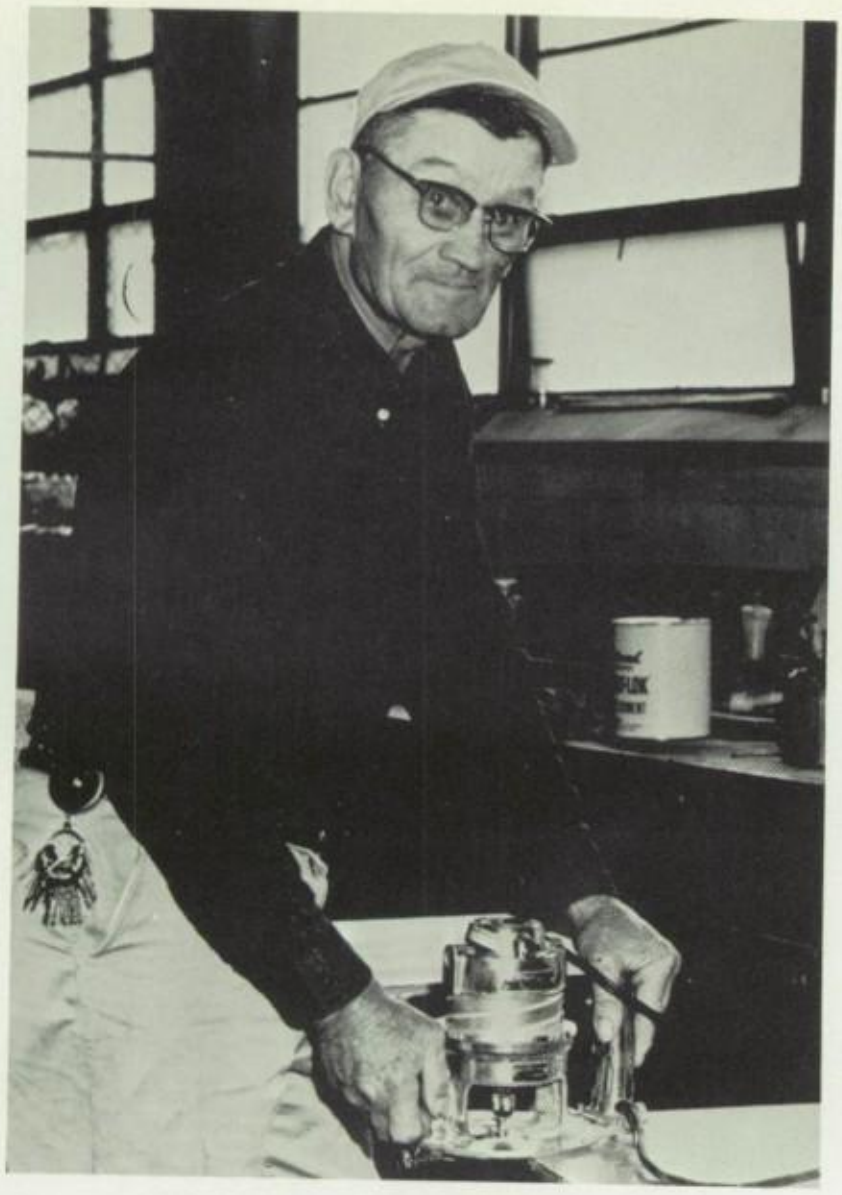
MRS. FRED ZVONEK and Mrs. A. Rohrback bake fresh rolls every day.

MRS. HELEN MARTIN fastens on her plastic apron in preparation for her turn at the dishwasher.

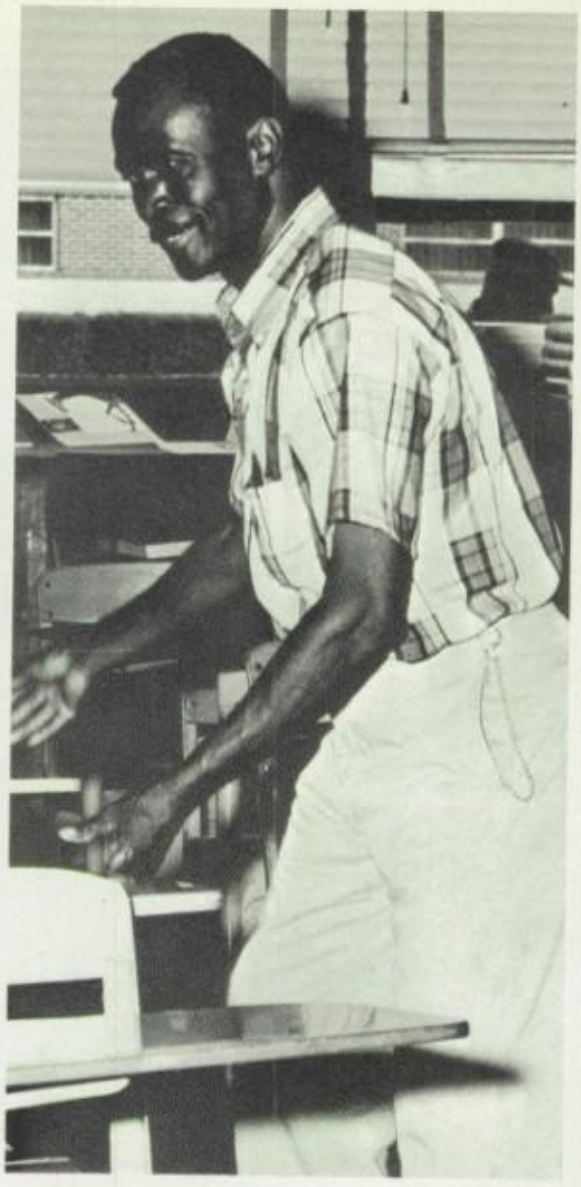
Competent Management Keeps Cafeteria Going

MRS. JULIA SHORT and Mrs. Pauline Ryan see that everything is kept at its shining best.

MRS. ANN GENZER and Mrs. Cora H. Penne add receipts and count cash.



WEIGHED DOWN BY KEYS and surrounded by gadgets, Mr. Bob Genzer keeps busy.



CUSTODIAN, Mr. Odell Burton, spends his days sweeping and moving desks.

A BIG MOP attached to that long handle helps custodian, Mr. Al Hill, keep the west hall and the Home Ec. rooms in order.

It Takes a Heap of Care and Cleaning to Keep McGuinness Spirit Gleaming

FIRM BELIEVERS in the adage that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, plant engineers, Mr. Bob Genzer and Mr. Fred Zvonek, show how scraping the notches on a "yahoodi stick" will cause a propeller at the end of the stick to revolve.

POP ART BACKGROUND AND CROSS, prepared by students from all Religion classes, give a festive setting for the pre-Christmas Mass concelebrated by Fathers Monahan, Brooks, and Dolin. Servers are Jack O'Meara and Dan Tullius.

With the introduction of Pop Art and free discussion Religion took on a new dimension; the feeling that Religion is divorced from ordinary living was more or less dissipated. A study of the four elements in Nature, fire, air, earth, and water brought home more forcibly man's relationship to God and to his fellow man. Students were encouraged to enter more fully into the spirit of the Liturgy by taking an active part in the preparation for liturgical functions.

MARIE BERNARD reads a selection from the Bible relative to the Sacrament of Confirmation.

UNDER THE DIRECTION of Father Dolin, Randy Wells, Gary Salwierak, and Marie Bernard demonstrate the importance of the Sacrament of Confirmation.

Students Relate Religion to Daily Living

POP ART montages were popular with all classes.

English Instruction

SENIOR ENGLISH STUDENTS, Charlotte Pietz, Maureen Dooley, Charlotte Colby, Greg Istre, and Harold Leopard, with the help of text book and props, try to capture the meaning in the Noh Drama.

DIANE DENNEHY and Cathy Flanagan get background for English authors from tapes prepared by teachers.

SISTER JANE FRANCES guides students in use of tapes for sophomore English.

ADAPTING ARTHUR MILLER'S "The Crucible" to classroom presentation was a rewarding experience for English IV classes.

Tape and Team Teaching Introduced

ANN COSTELLO finds just what she needs in the library.

JANIS HUDGENS donates her first hour study period to checking in books.

Home Economics held attraction for both girls and boys. The latter concentrated on food selection, preparation, and serving. Two nine week periods in sewing gave girls opportunity to learn the techniques of both summer and fall garments; two periods were devoted to cooking and household arts.

Speakers and demonstrators, invited to address the classes, provided valuable insights in household management, and motivated students to try to excel in the varied facets of homemaking.

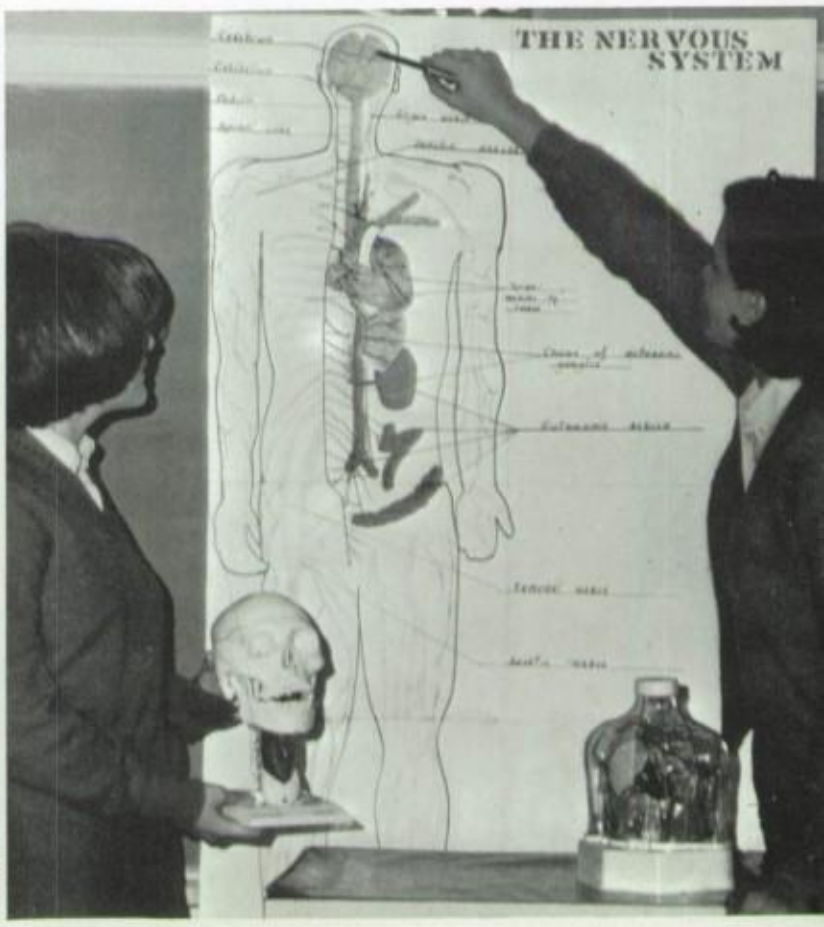
CHRIS KHOURY received citations from the U. S. Air Force and the Okklahoma City Science Fair for his project on Atomic Energy Levels.

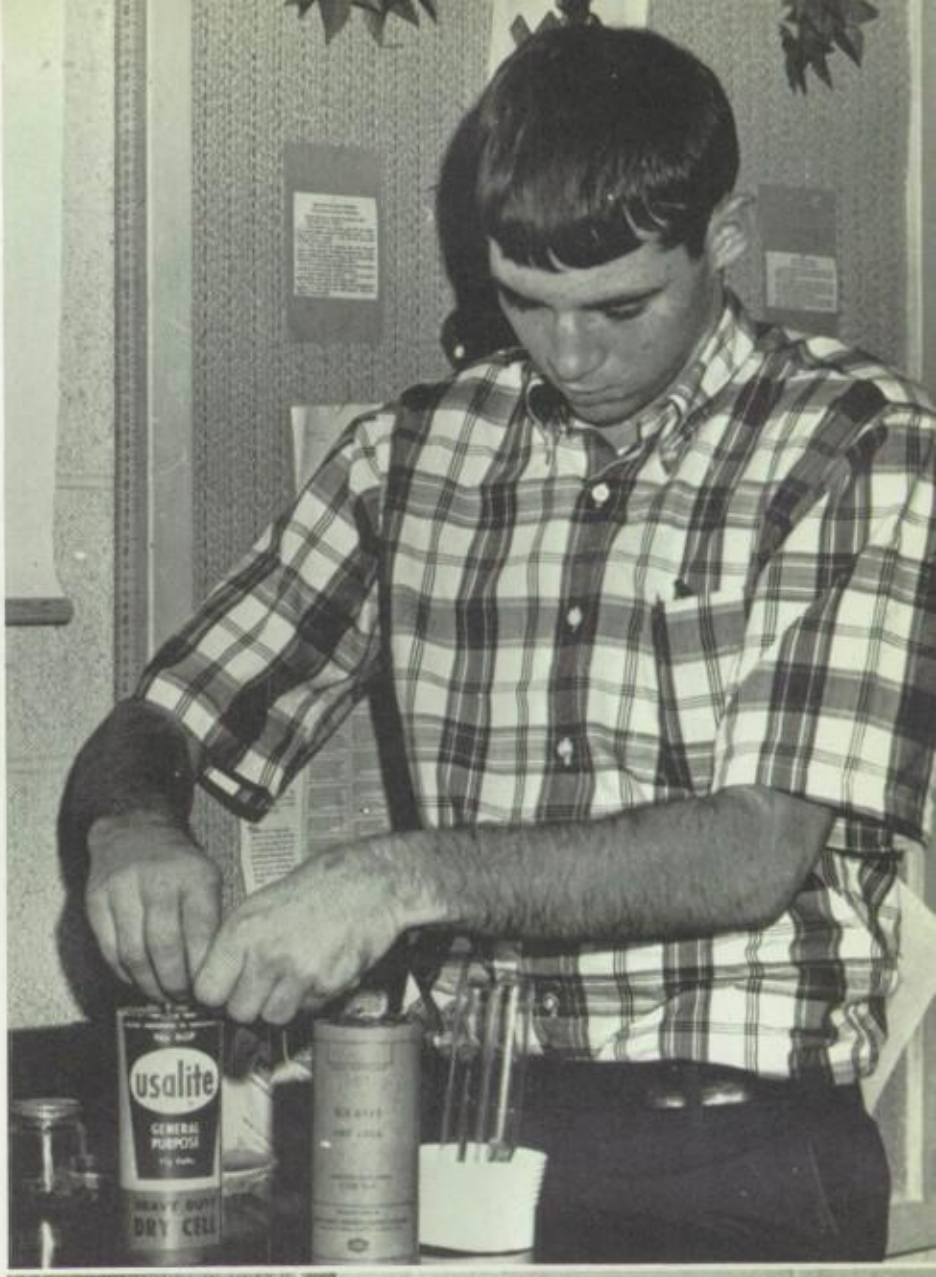
Young Scientists Honored for Original Projects

TERRY BRENNAN and Steve Flynn designed an original attachment that enables them to see and hear the sound waves of their voices on the oscilloscope.

ANNE HOLLAS and Hannah Lu Draper explain the working of the nervous system from charts made by Biology Classes.



MR. LAMB, of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission demonstrates how the geiger counter detects thyroid activity. Mike Bignell is the victim.



USING AN APPARATUS made by himself, Bob Sine is separating water by electrolysis.

Expert Demonstrations Spark Fresh Enthusiasm

Biology, Chemistry, Physical Science, and Physics, under three instructors, constituted the Science department. With the introduction of team teaching in Physical Science, classes were split into separate divisions for boys and girls. One student in the Physics class placed twice in state Science Fairs.

A representative of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, Oakridge, Tenn., presented a demonstration of atomic energy and structure, nuclear radioactivity, fission, and fusion.

The Science Club proved a competent adjunct to the department. The club sponsored original experiments with hamsters and provided up-dated information for the Science bulletin-board.

Original equipment designed by students also proved popular.

CHRIS KHOURY and Bill Hellams study the effect of varied foods on hamsters.

STATE SENATOR, BRYCE BAGGETT, one of the leading legislators for Re-apportionment, addresses the Problems of Democracy class on that topic.

Projects, Speakers Add Zest to Social Studies

ANN LESTER, Linda Cavanaugh, and Coleen Farrell display varied types of Oklahoma State maps, prepared as a project by the Oklahoma History classes. Tom Luza is the "interested" on-looker.

JEANNE ANNE MAXWELL gives a report on a topic in early American history to a group of classes in the auditorium.

MR. JOHN W. PORTER addresses the combined Social Studies classes. Mr. Porter's talk was an explanation of the stock market.

Team Teaching, Art, Skits, Drama, Murals Bring History Alive

Skits, Lectures, workshops, and team teaching provided additional interest in all the areas of Social Studies. Team teaching proved especially valuable in American History classes. Murals dealing with Greek myths and early civilizations added color to the study of Ancient and World History. Oklahoma History classes indulged in projects and drama. Freshmen, decked out in more or less-authentic styles of the 1880's, relived the land rush of '89, and got a taste of how Oklahoma came to be a territory, and later a state.

Conrad and Kim (Mary Ferioli) in "One Last Kiss."

THE McAFEE FAMILY, Randolph (Dick Bradley), Mr. McAfee (Royal Carson), Mrs. McAfee (Jeanne Marie Rosenthal), and Kim McAfee (Mary Ferioli) rejoice because they are going on the Ed. Sullivan show.

MHS Student Artists

To give each student artist an opportunity to experiment in various media, beginners, intermediate, and advanced students were combined in all classes. Experimentation ranged from pottery, ceramics, and copper enameling to water color, charcoal, and oil paintings. A study of Art, implemented by field trips, lectures, and demonstrations, revealed how arts of both the past and the present influence man today. In local exhibits and contests, MHS took five awards out of thirty-seven offered.

CAROL FLYNN, Jackie Poeling, Stephanie Fiegel, and David Gentile experiment with clay pottery.

DURING A TOUR of the 5207 Junior League Gallery Mrs. Jann Faught, MHS Art instructor, directs the attention of Mary Ferioli, Felice Walton, and Laura Summers to an interesting design.

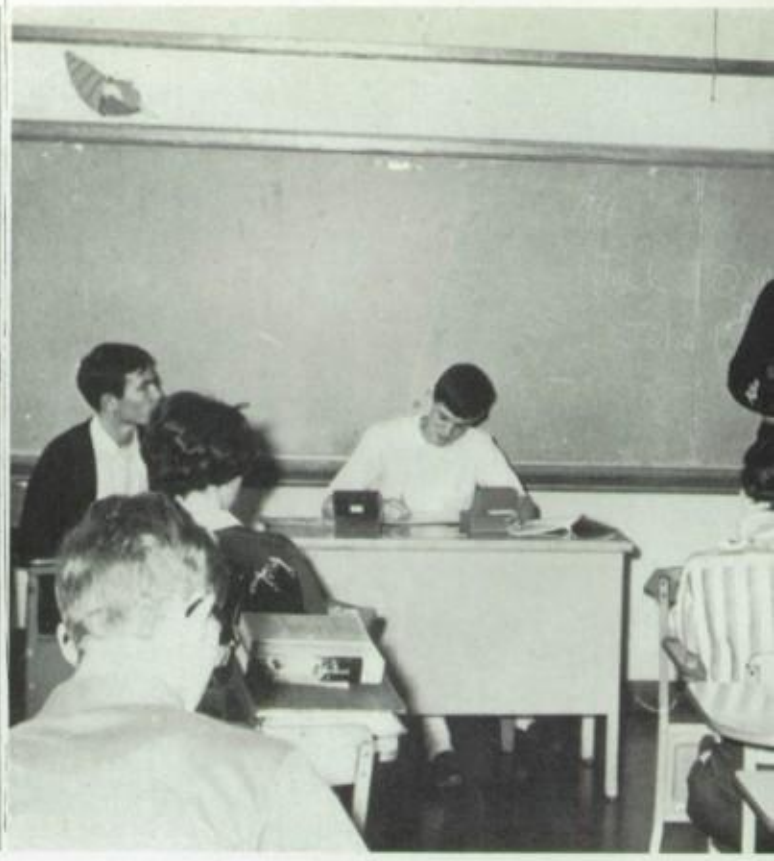
STACEY SEYMOUR mats one of her drawings.

REHEARSING A SCENE from "Visit from a Strange Planet" are Tim Shackleford (the Monster) and Hal Leopard (the General).



MIKE HICKEY presents the negative side in a debate on Management—Labor relations, while his partner, Gil Child, waits his turn, and the affirmative, Jack O'Meara and John Gamino, prepare rebuttals.

Alternating Casts Present "Playboy of the Western World" to Four Audiences

Christy Mahon claiming that he has murdered his father—actually he has only knocked him unconscious—arrives at Mike Flaherty's saloon where he is lionized by all the girls on account of his supposed bravery, and given a job as pot boy. With the unexpected arrival of his father who has come to claim his recalcitrant son, Christy's role as a hero dwindles to that of a very scared youngster.

PEGEEN (CARRIE COSTELLO) persuades her father, (Terry Hughes) to employ Christy (Scott Dooley) as pot boy in his saloon.

THE GIRLS bring gifts to Christy because of his popularity as the murderer of his father.

PEGEEN, to the envy of the other girls, flirts with Christy.

KATHY DOBELBOWER leads a discussion concerning a Speech program for St. Patrick's School, where some of the MHS Speech students teach twice a week.

Speech Students Capture Honors in Regional Tilts. Four Qualify for State

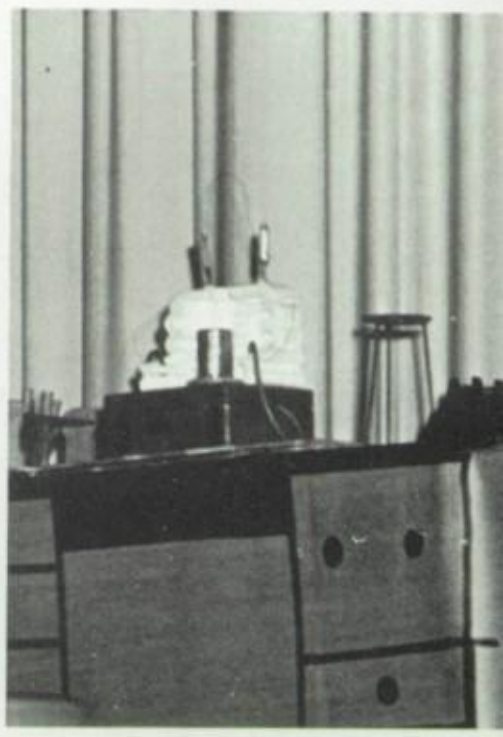
Speech students and members of the National Forensic League traveled to various Forensic Tournaments. Principal entries were in debate, dramatic and humorous interpretation, extemporaneous speaking, radio, and oratory. They placed firsts in poetry, dramatic duet, original oration, standard oration, and extemporaneous speaking, with a second in dramatic interpretation. Four qualified for the state tourney, where they won one second place.

PEGEEN AND THE WIDOW Quinn (Sharon Gallagher) try to force a disguise on Christy to prevent his being captured.

CHRISTY'S father arrives, wounded, but not murdered.

WITH THE ARRIVAL of his father, Christy's popularity wanes, and all the saloon people assist in his capture.

Queen's Players Present "The Mouse That Roared



PROFESSOR KOKINTZ (Jack O'-Meara), inventor of the Q-Bomb, calls to ask why his daily sandwich lunch has not been delivered to the lab.

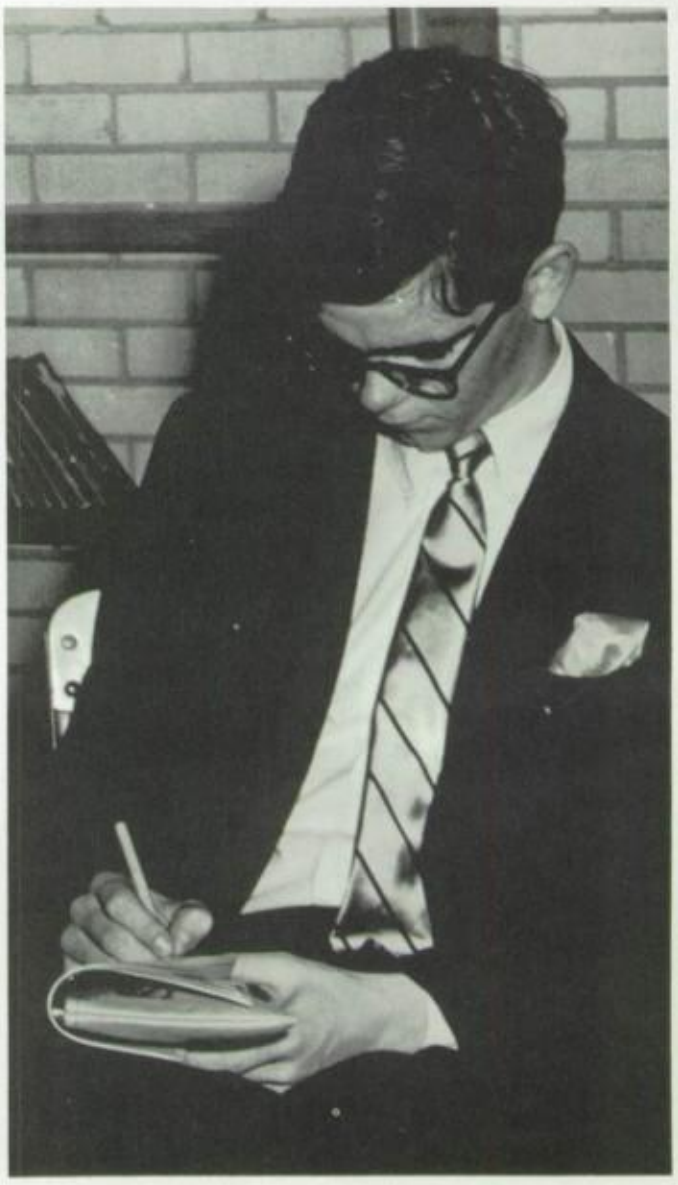
SPIRIT OF SERVICE

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Pam Williams, Secretary; Mike Warren, Parliamentarian; Mark Parrington, President; Katie Tener. Vice-President; Bill Fish, Treasurer and Inter-City Council Treasurer.

Student Council Functioned Cooperatively, Effectively

KATHY DOBELBOWER and Bob Scheer entertain the Inter-City meeting.



MARK PARRINGTON jots down some points to be remembered.

McGuinness S. C. Hosts Inter-City Council Groups

REV. FATHER MONAHAN welcomes the students from other schools to the meeting at McGuinness.

Friendly relations among the schools in the Oklahoma City and surrounding areas received a boost by the Inter-City Student Council meeting hosted by McGuinness. Rev. Father Monahan welcomed the students and Ken Crews Inter-City Council president conducted the meeting. MHS Council also sponsored a student exchange day when sixteen MHS students visited schools and had students from these schools visiting MHS. Judging by what they accomplished the Student Council had a most successful year, under the leadership of Mark Parrington.

AMONG THOSE intently listening is Bill Fish of MHS, Inter-City SC Treasurer.

KEN CREWS of Southeast High School conducts the Inter-City meeting.

NHS OFFICERS: Julie Semtner, Treasurer; Kathy Peoples, Secretary; Maureen Garrity, Vice-president; Paul Kanaly, President, during induction of members.

From affiliate membership last year, the National Forensic League advanced this year to charter membership. Approximately twenty-five Speech students earned the requisite points for admission to the league by participating successfully in state and regional Speech tournaments.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE Officers: Kathy Dobelbower, Mark Garvin, John McClellon, and John Gamino.

Scholastic Clubs Spur Enthusiasm for Study

Dedication to the advancement of scientific inquiry and exactness of detail were characteristics of this year's Science Club. The club sponsored science projects, experimented with hamsters, and kept an up-to-date bulletin board listing the latest in science news.

ON THEIR WAY to a meeting are Science Club Officers: Ellen Cronin, Chris Khoury, and Kathy Peoples.

Two productions, "Playboy of the Western World", and "The Mouse That Roared", brought praise to the Queen's Players. The latter play was presented before six audiences, two of these in Paola, Kansas.

Cheerleaders Were Tops

SPIRITED PEP CLUBBERS devote time outside school hours to the decoration of the homecoming float.

Cheerleaders front to back are: Mary Lu Bravo, Sherri Reinauer, Susie Bravo, Carolyn Reinig, Susie Hook, and Liz Donovan.

CHEERLEADERS ARE 'up in the air' over two points sunk by MHS roundballers.

PRESIDENT, SYDNEY MENELEY, distributes gifts to the cheerleaders from the team.

To provide ushers for Symphony and other artistic performances students from the Oklahoma City public and private schools are chosen. Besides the City officers, each school has its own officers. Usually a black and white uniform is worn, except on special occasions when the attire is semi-formal. The group is known as the Hi-Notes.

JEANNE MARIE ROSENTHAL, Peggy Carey, and Helen Fooks are officers of the MHS unit of Hi-Notes.

Service Clubs, Training Groups Test MHS Spirit

In addition to handling stage lighting and sound effects for all performances in the auditorium, the Operators' Club run the movie projectors and operate audio-visual equipment in classrooms.

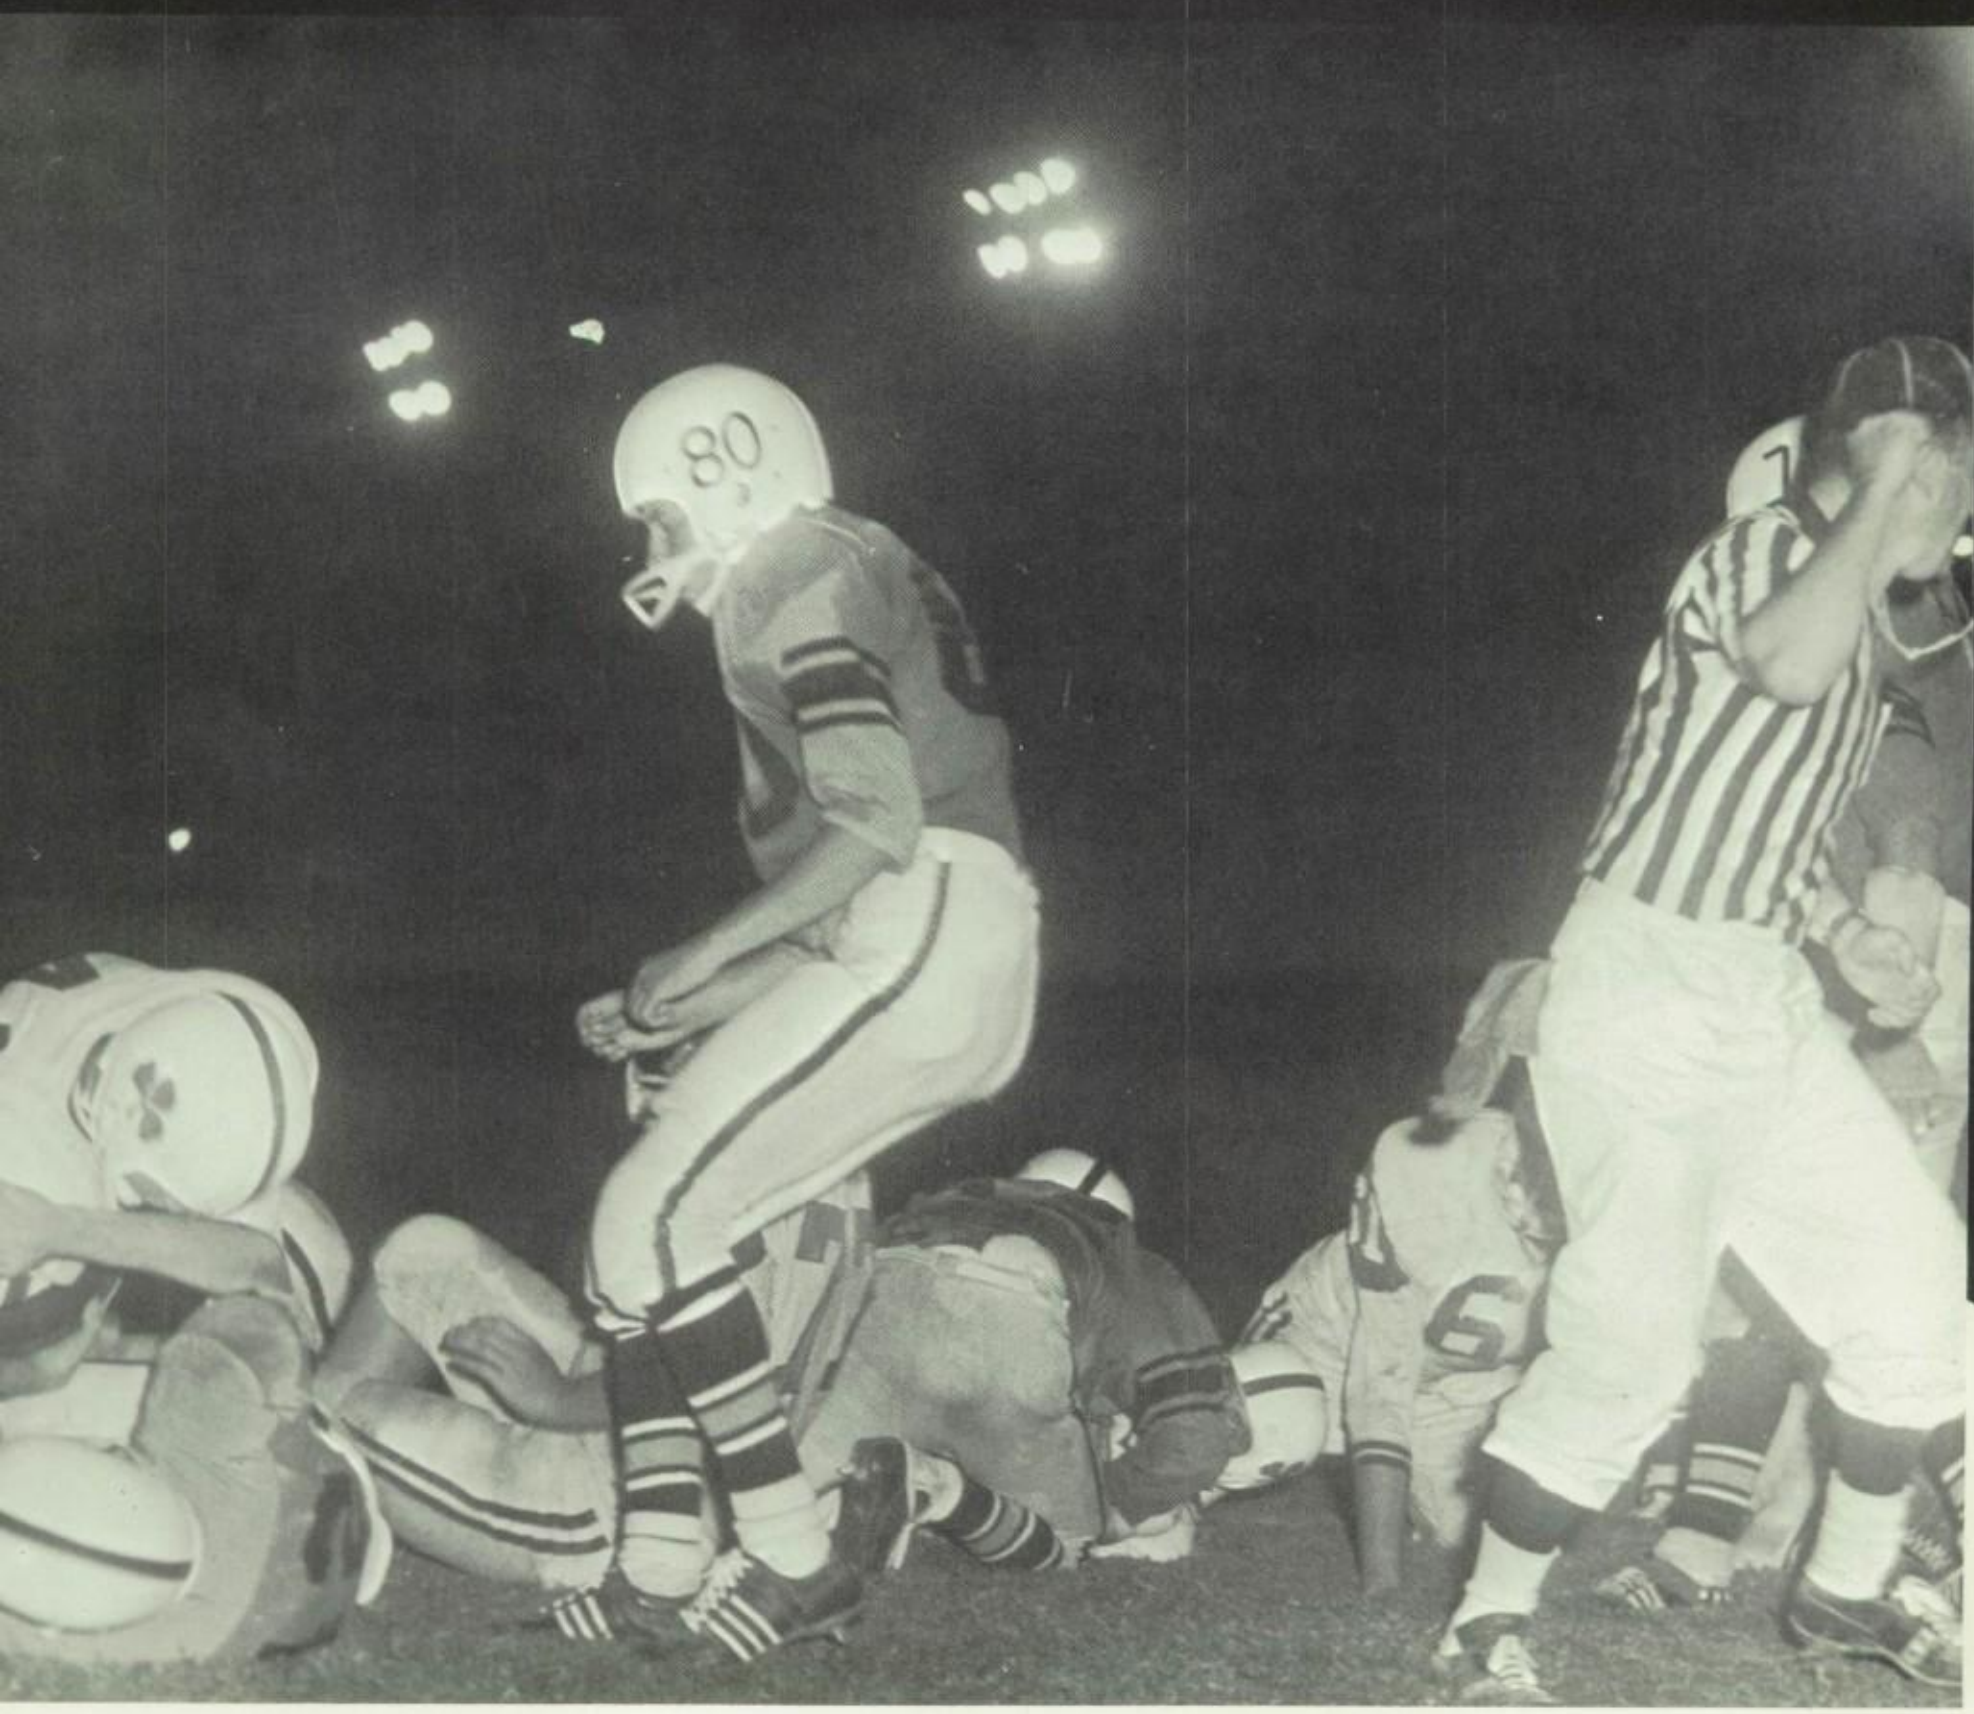
SPIRIT OF SPORTSMANSHIP



PHIL PHIPPS puts his nose to the ground as Kevin Cox is hauled down from behind.

Coach Frank Hughes' first year as head coach of the "Fighting Irish" was an acclaimed success. The Irish finished the season with a 7-2 record, permitting only Star Spencer and Northeast spoil a perfect season.

The Irish started off with a whopping 21-0 victory over Henrietta. By flooding the air with passes, and with a consistent running attack, the Green and White won the first game of the 1965 season.

The following week, the Irish were home for the annual grudge battle with Casady. A rain-soaked field made no difference as the Irish slipped by the Cyclones 12-8.

Fate finally caught up with the Irish in the games with Northeast, Capitol Conference Champs, and highly rated Star Spencer, with scores 34-20 and 6-0.

Successful Season Marks Coach Hughes' Debut

AS IRISH CLEAR WAY, Kevin Cox sprints to six points.

The Irish got back on the road to success with a win over the Classen Comets 16-0. They stayed on this road to bomb the Kelley Comets of Tulsa 26-18 at the McGuinness Homecoming.

In the next fracas with Cascia Hall the Green and White exploded for 56 points, holding the Commandoes scoreless.

The Irish finished their season with two home games, beating Central 16-0, and walloping arch-rivals, St. Mary's 59-0. They completed the season with five comeback wins, scoring 226 points in 9 games, and limiting their opponents to a mere 74.

This racked up the 3rd best season ever recorded for McGuinness, another victory for the exhuberant spirit of MHS.

A further victory was achieved when the coaches of the Capitol Conference unanimously voted to admit McGuinness to their group.

Irish Teamwork Offsets Lack of Height Handicap

Though handicapped by lack of height Coach Virgil Grantham's quintet, because of teamwork and speed, were among the best in the history of McGuinness. They averaged 68.14 points a game, holding their opponents to 55. Seniors Jack Perrault and Paul Kanaly, with Junior Bob Sine, were the mainstay of the Irish. Perrault averaged 21 points a game. After a "first game jitters" loss to Classen 37-34, the Irish downed Edmond 77-66, even though Edmond's superior height gave them trouble. In their third game they trounced their traditional rival, Casady, with a 65-51 victory.

The next matches came during the Christmas Tournament with Capitol Hill, Chickasha, Ada, Norman, Douglass, and Putnam City participating. McGuinness won the first game over Ada 73-48 and then squeezed by Norman, ranked Number 1, Class A, by 52-50. In the final game of the tourney we met powerful Class AA Putnam City and lost 74-63.

Next after a loss to Stillwater, we thwarted Casady's revenge try by 89-56, and won the next five by romping over Cascia Hall 74-36, avenging our previous loss to Stillwater, 65-62, and going on to maul St. Mary's 91-48, scoring a record number of points for one game. We met and defeated Carl Albert (10-0) stomping them 90-75, with Jack Perrault setting an individual record of 39 points. In the Central State Tournament we beat Southeast 67-58, but, by a freak incident lost to Clinton 61-60. Next Kelly fell under the axe of the Irish 72-46. After again whipping St. Mary's 76-57, we took the triumph from Classen 71-55. In the homecoming game we again conquered Edmond 55-51, and followed with another victory over Cascia Hall 61-51. In the next game Carl Albert got its revenge 63-56; but unaffected by this loss, in our final game we dumped Kelley 81-39.

Seniors Face Future With Spirit, Determination

Down in numbers, compared with the class of '65, the graduating class of 1966 by no means lagged in spirit and enthusiasm. Although numerically the one hundred fifty-eight seniors were the smallest class, they led the honor roll and placed two finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Test. In Art, Oratory, and Drama contests, they won recognition and honors. One senior reached finalist in the City Talent Show and represented MHS on a TV presentation. One of the senior cheerleaders was chosen to be an instructor for the 1966 cheerleader clinic at the state university. Eight won scholarships, and one, an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy.

Freshman Leaders Rise to Responsibility

In class competition and ingenuity the two hundred Freshmen forged ahead under the leadership of their officers. Limited during the first semester to academic areas, with the approach of the second semester they proved their ability extracurricularly as well as academically. While engineering their two big projects—the Freshman Dance and the Olympics, they managed to place sixty names on the school honor roll.

Juniors Win Award for Friendliest Class

Competent leadership, willingness to serve in any department, and a real spirit of friendliness characterized the 1966 Juniors. Many activities, including the Junior-Senior Prom, Science Fairs, and Student Government projects were planned and successfully carried out by class officers and appointed committees. Service and spirit were the watch words of the Juniors.

Juniors Were Tops

Responsibility, enthusiasm, and cooperation characterized the 1965-66 Juniors. With the elections of Class Officers and Student Council Representatives our eleventh graders began to prove that their class held some of the most competent leaders in MHS history. One hundred seventy-five strong, the Juniors met all challenges head on, and boosted McGuinness Spirit in all areas of activity.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We express our gratitude to the following people who made this book a reality. First we thank our advertisers and patrons for their financial support.

We are especially grateful to all the students who, successfully or otherwise, solicited advertising. The ones who were successful are: Dixie Racz, Bill Fish, Terri Knouse, Chris Carroll, Judy Hamilton, Elissa Nathan, Virginia Goetz, Michael Eckroat, Cecilia McAuliff, Denise Hennessey, Janet Reardon, Mitch Dallal, Steve Swatek, Joe Allen, Terry Reznicek, Lois Byler, Janie McGinley, Gloria Green, Chere Kelley, Kay Lee, Caren Turk, Jill Jacobi, Peggy Woods, Mary Ferioli, and Ann Hagmann.

We acknowledge the competent help of Brown's Studio for the senior pictures, the Pipkin Studio for the underclasses, and Don Gwynn for the colored picture of the school entrance.

For all other photography we are indebted to the school photographers, Joe Allen, Wayne Chernicky, Jim Laurence, Cathye Gaalaas, Mary Ferioli, and Sister Rosalie, who spent many hours shooting, developing, and printing pictures, and to Stacey Seymour for her help in checking senior pictures.

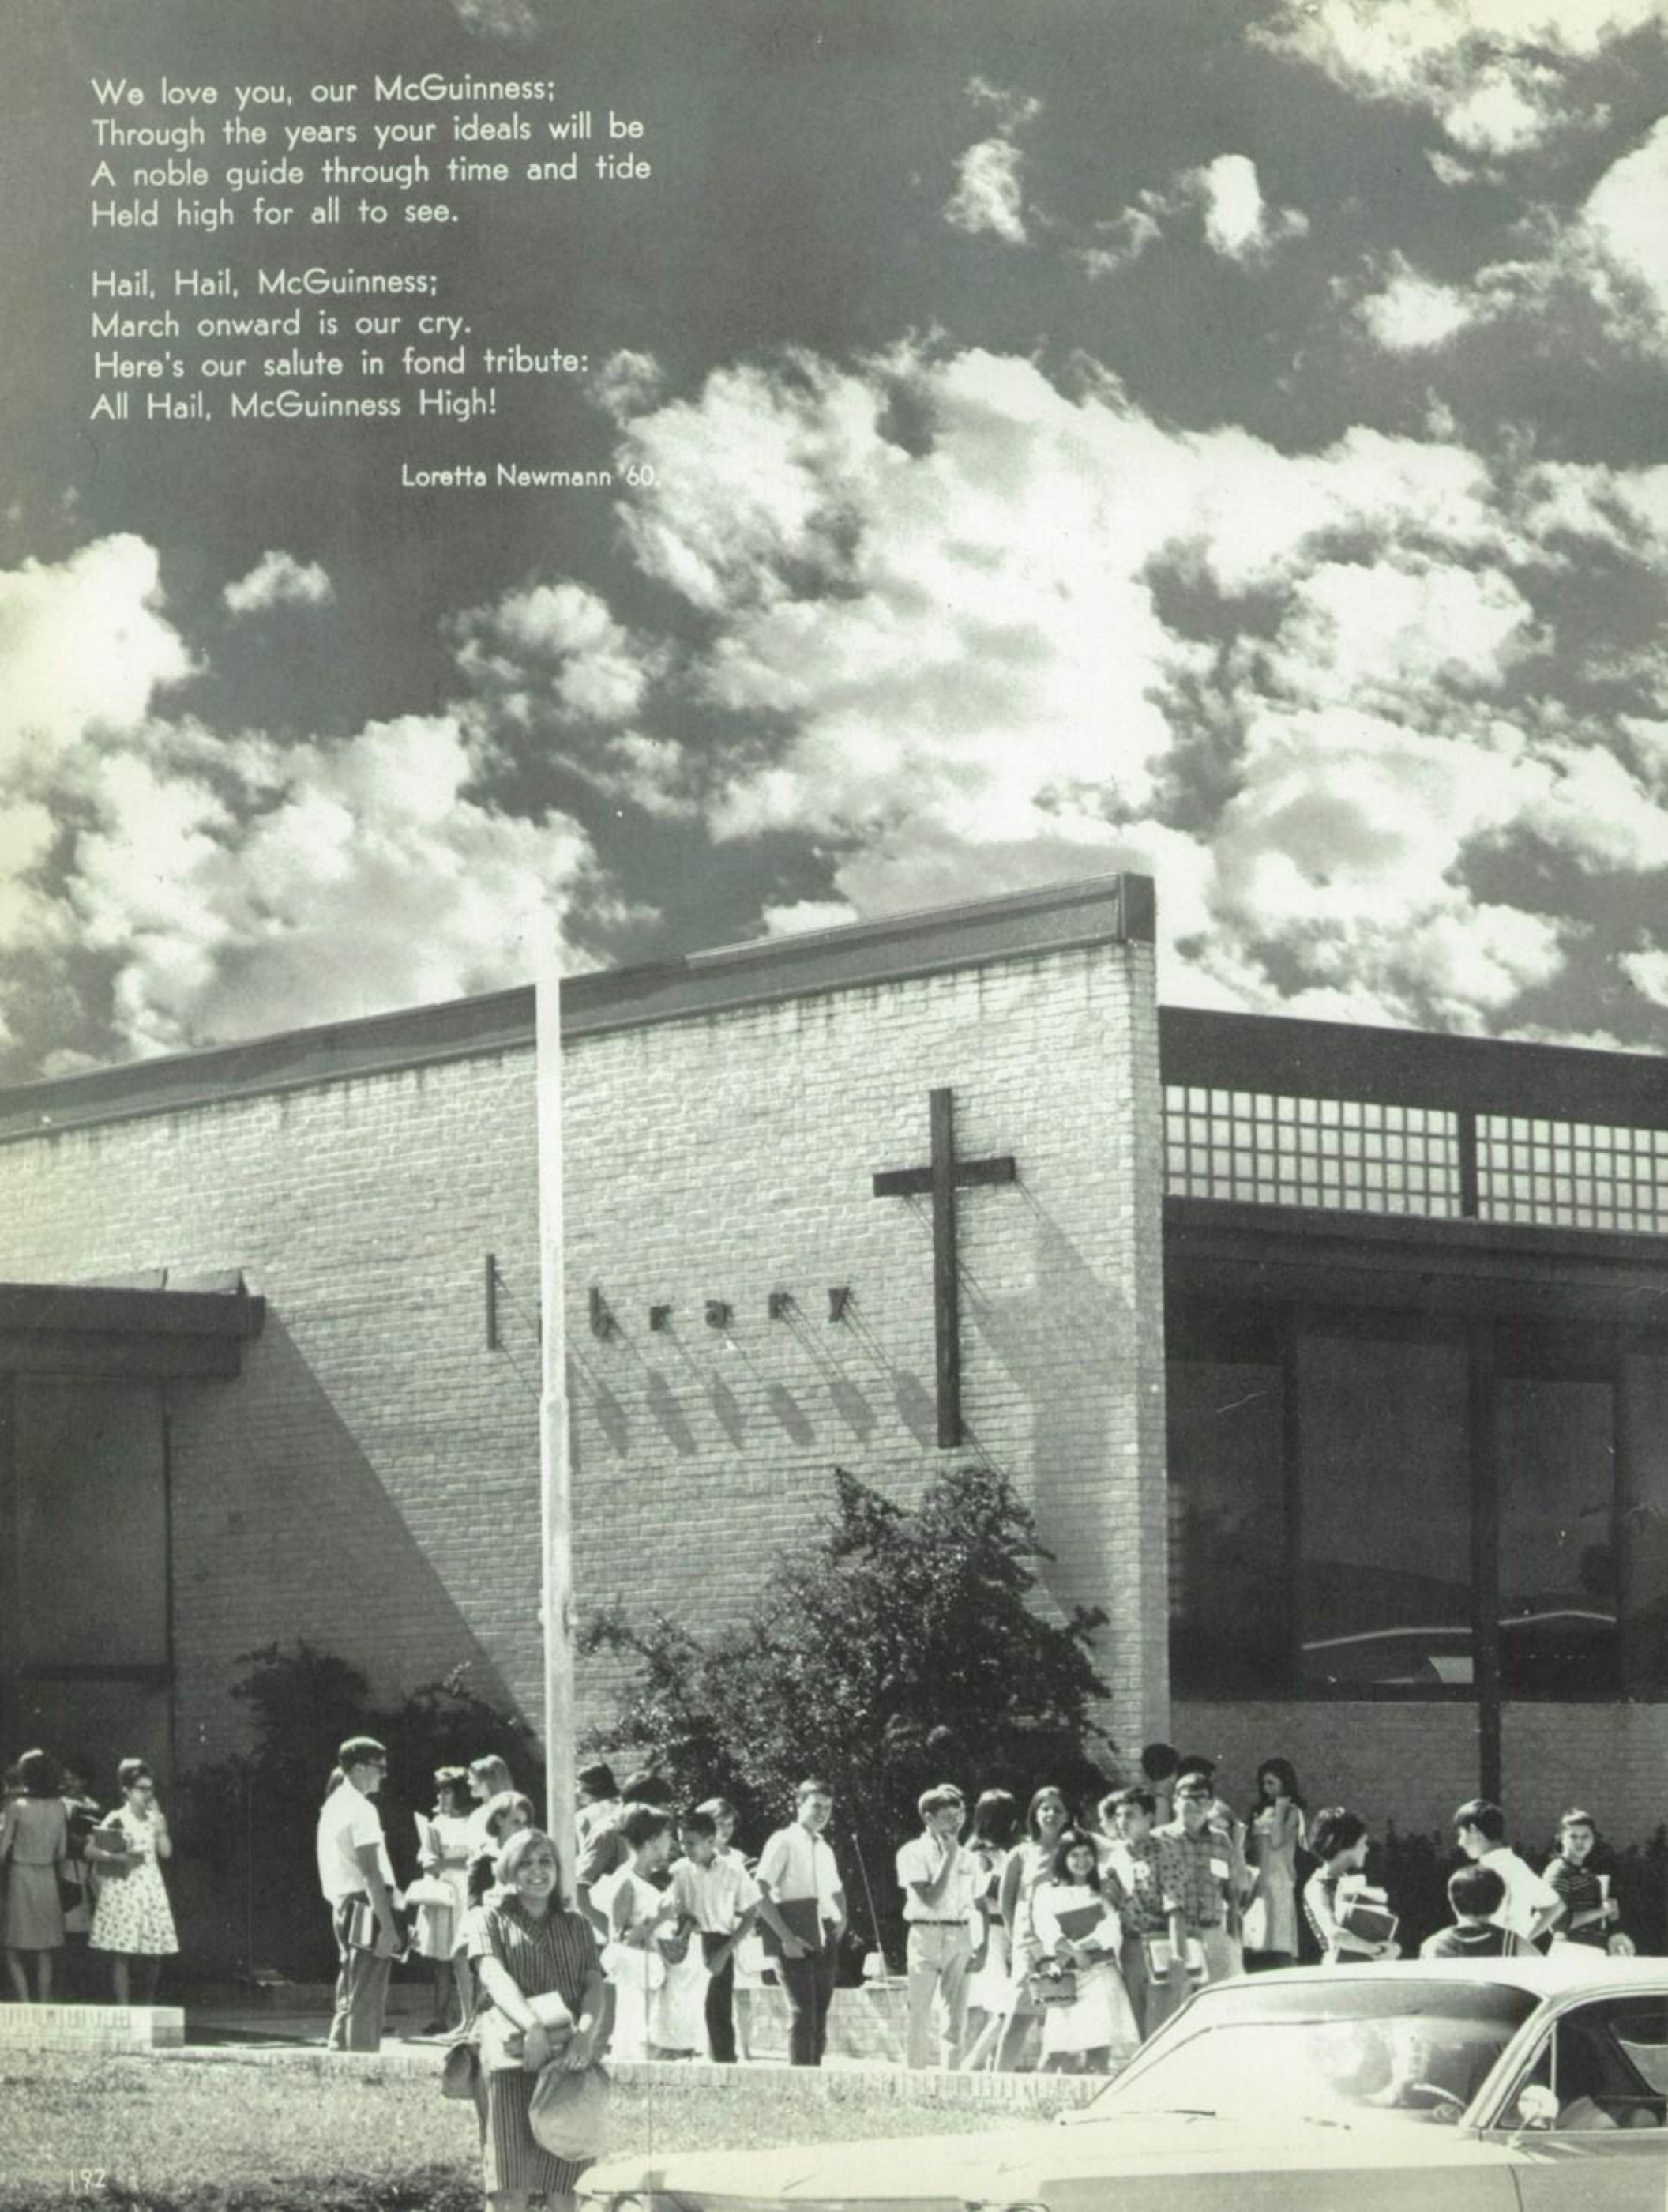
We are grateful to the Art classes who submitted cover designs, and to Virginia Kavanaugh whose design was selected as the basic idea for the cover.

To the Taylor Publishing Company, and to the area counselors, Mrs. Agatha Campbell and Mrs. Lu Carroll, we are grateful for help and encouragement.

And lastly we are especially grateful to Father Monahan and the faculty for their cooperation and patience, without which the job would have been impossible.

THE CHI RHO STAFF.

We love you, our McGuinness;
Through the years your ideals will be
A noble guide through time and tide
Held high for all to see.

Hail, Hail, McGuinness;
March onward is our cry.
Here's our salute in fond tribute:
All Hail, McGuinness High!


Loretta Newmann '60.
